By Sara Peterson Jan 27, 2022 0 comments Any patriotic kid (or those young at heart) would surely love to have a Captain America-themed birthday. What better way to do this than to create a birthday cake that bears the symbol and colors of this beloved supersoldier? Get your aprons ready, bring your A-game, and get your creativity going with these Captain America cake ideas! Top 5 Captain America Cake Ideas For Your Parties 1. Use Real Captain America Action Figures As Toppers If you don't have enough time to bake or the budget for a customized cake, the best way to spice up a simple cake is by using cake toppers. Sure, you can buy standard cake toppers at a cheap price, but you can take it to the next level by putting actual Captain America action figures on top of your centerpiece! Here are some action figures that can also function as incredible cake toppers: Marvel Funko POP Vinyl Figure | Mech Strike Captain America View Product Marvel Funko Holiday POP Vinyl Figure | Gingerbread Captain America View Product Marvel Avengers 6 Inch Action Figure | Captain America View Product The best thing about using action figure cake toppers is that they can also double as your gift to yourself or the party celebrant! 2. Use Sprinkles or Candies Sprinkles are a great way to decorate a cake. Instead of the usual rainbow sprinkles, try to find solid colored ones in red, blue, and white. Then, you can create the pattern of Cap's shield on the top of a frosted buttercream cake using the sprinkles! If you think sprinkles are too messy, you can also use candies like M&M's or Skittles. It could be quite a huge challenge to find white ones, but they sure are easier to "assemble" (pun intended). 3. Prepare Edible Decors & Print Edible Captain America Pictures If you're ga-ga-over Chris Evans (who starred as Captain America in all the Marvel movies), then why not put him all over your cake? Of course, we're not talking about the actual person. You can purchase edible cake decorations bearing the Captain America theme. There are also those who offer customized edible pictures that you can place on top of your cakes. Just make sure to provide high-definition images to get the best quality edible prints. Related Posts: 4. Use Fondant In Cake Designing Fondant is a very versatile material for cake decorating. Think of it as the modeling clay in the baking world - you can shape and transform it into almost anything. The best thing about this is, you can buy pre-made fondant or make your marshmallow fondant at home! [1] For beginners, you can whip up Captain America's shield as it only requires two basic shapes - circles and a star. For the intermediate level, you can try to recreate his logo from the comic books. And if you're up for the challenge, why not try creating his uniform or the Captain himself? There are easy-to-follow tutorials online that would help you figure out how to use fondant to create these amazing designs. This can also be a fun activity to do with your family or friends! 5. Add Some Captain America's Shield-Inspired Cupcakes If there are lots of people coming over, creating a massive Captain America cake would be a bit daunting (and buying one is surely expensive). So, getting a small cake accompanied by lots of cupcakes would obviously be the better option in this situation. Cupcakes can be easier to decorate too. Just top them off with red, white, and blue icing and add some star confetti! You can also print out some Captain America cupcake toppers, and it'll still be a great hit! FAQs Can you use soft icing in designing Captain America cakes? Yes, you can use soft icing in designing Captain America cakes. You will need some piping techniques and a lot of creativity to make this happen. Also, cake toppers and sprinkles are easier to use when decorating a cake with soft icing. How do you make a Captain America cake at home? A Captain America cake all starts with a good base. It doesn't matter whether you're using a boxed cake mix or making it from scratch - you will cover your cake's base with a Captain America-themed decoration, anyway. You can use various cake toppers, fondant, or simple buttercream icing to make your very own Captain America cake at home. Bake & Assemble! We hope that these Captain America cake ideas will prove to be useful at your next themed party. Making a loved one's special day even more special has never been this easy! All you need to do is buy a couple of action figures, play around with sprinkles, fondant, and icing, or get a couple of printed edibles to decorate your cake with. Decorating the cake can also serve as a fun activity you can do with your kids or friends! As Captain America would say, "I can do this all day"! Looking for more Marvel merch? Check out our store!
